It would be a relief for the league, instead of the united States, to talk things over with Mexico, for whencome, there is always some one or name party in Mexico and go back to earning a living. It is to be deduced from this that in perceing our food to the starving millions of the world, he hasn't been holding out anything for himself, in a type a cry that the colosius of the north is reaching out to grab Mexico. So, any suggestion is looked upon as an retary of war Baker arrived to find it a "wet" town.

THERE is every reason now for believing that the bague of nations, and not the United States, will have the job of arguing with Mexico over the treatment to be accorded foreigners in Mexico and foreign investments in the same country. If so, Washington will be relieved of a task obviously embarrassing which it has been touching gingerly

FEEL serry for the wight who can't sit down with a book, and experience HEEL scrry for the wight who can't sit down with a book, and experience I delight in his cory inglemook; who can't wrestle with the bards, storing knowledge in his head, but most play a game of cards, or go yawning aff to bed. Let me have a stack of temes, piled about me on the floor; takes, blog-raphies and pomes, and my heart will crave no more. Then the westry world may wag any blamed way it may please, and the night hours will not drag, but will scoot like bumble been. I don't care to talk a streak, or to argue politics, or to listen for a week to the silver throated hicks; I am tired of crokingle and of checkers and of checkers polar puts his in the hole, so does bridge whist, more or less. All the games I know are hores, and increase my lead of woe, when the tempest howls outdoors, and there is no place to go. Bring me then a stack of books, while my neighbor yawns and nods, and the evening to me looks like a present from the gods.
